Participate in an intensive teaching and training experience in the middle of the Mediterranean!

Sicily is the heart of the Mediterranean Sea and has been the cradle of different cultures as well as a melting pot of different civilizations. Today Sicily is the heart of several migration pathways and is particularly affected by current crises and emerging challenges in the Mediterranean. As such, it is one of the best places to study the crises at EU Med borders and their management, as it offers a great opportunity to combine academic and practical experiences 'on the ground'.
